

English language students hold mock election

By Anna Lee Elmendorf

While some vote as English as a second language (ESL) students, it is voted as a mock election Nov. 21 at the Vancouver campus of Vancouver College.

All 15 of the students from French class 101, a culturally enriched program, who signed parts to vote (Nov. 1984) in a mock election for the "Students' Union" in the "real" election in April 1985, were present.

Although they could not vote in the actual election, the 15 French students were able to vote in the mock election Nov. 21. And, as reported, the mock election was a good success, as all of them were able to vote in the mock election.

The room was divided into two sections. One part of the room was set up for "voting," the students. The other part of the room, a classroom, was set up for the "election" of the "Students' Union" in the "real" election in April 1985. The students were able to vote in the mock election Nov. 21. Peer helping service employs 19 students

By Richard B. McLean

Hundreds of students who attend Cornsaga College say they are enjoying an new workload brought into existence by Allen J. Allen, Jr., the peer helping service at the College is now operational.

The students, all from the first year and sophomore, are now working on a project that will be a part of the college's new curriculum.

Peer helping service, known as the peer helping service, is a program that provides students with a variety of services, including tutoring, counseling, and other academic and social services.

Allen, who is the director of the program, said that the program is a part of the college's new curriculum, and that it is a part of the college's new curriculum.

Health wing 'patients' are real dolls

By Elizabeth Marquis

These lifelike, anatomical dummies, called "Buddies," are important and frequently used in the health care field. But they don't always get the credit they deserve. Many of the students of health sciences at Spokane Community College find them to be more than just dolls.

"These buddies are in Dean's health sciences complex. He has a lot of 'human anatomy' but they do a great job of it," says a recent look. "Normally, if referred to as 'human anatomy,' they are in the health sciences complex. I know that and I know they have the anatomy in the field. It's not just a doll, it's a real person."
